About Me

After 11 years as a Software Engineer in France, working across a variety of industries including insurance, financial trading, and transportation, Damien Navineau decided to relocate to Auroville, South India. Seeking both a meaningful personal experience and an opportunity to contribute his expertise, he joined Auroville community as a Full-Stack Developer.

Following four years of volunteering with Blue Light, an open-source service in Auroville, Damien founded SoftNet, a dedicated development unit within Auroville focused on building and maintaining web applications.

Autonomous, adaptable, Damien oversees the full lifecycle of Auroville's web development projects—from requirements analysis and planning to development, project management, deployment, and ongoing support.
